Description

An oak Georgian style longcase clock dating to the 1920/30's. It has a square hood with turned side pillars and paneled sides that are matched in the trunk and base. The aged brass dial has a silvered chapter ring and is marked made in England. The Maples logo is on the inside of the glazed door. It has an 8 day brass cased weight driven movement that sounds the hours and quarters on 8 chime bars. Delivery and set-up is available at an extra charge depending on location.
